We typically see a little spike in identity theft cases this time of the year and – sure enough – we had a few in the area last month. Keep track of your credit reports and stay in touch with your banks on ANYTHING suspicious! These hackers are out there and they tend to be very good at what they do.

Listen, all you internet chat folks – if you strike up a conversation with someone who 'seems nice' and they ask to have a package delivered to your home TELL THEM NO! They will ask to have it delivered to your house and then they want you to forward it somewhere else. These are HUGE scams and you will put yourself right into the middle of the investigation.

There are mangy, feral cats all over our fine village – and other villages are reporting the same. There's no real solution to this. If you feed them, they will multiply and you'll never get rid of them. Think of them as squirrels with prettier coats.
